AES Fifth Grade Presents Skits

The fifth grade classes at Appomattox Elementary School were presented with a program of three plays on Tuesday, February 11. The first play "Sorry, No Answers" by A. K. Schaaf showed the dilemma of a telephone company customer who receives $2.00 from a pay-phone and then tries to give it back to the phone company.

The second play "Why The Sea Is Salt," a folk tale, traces the ownership of the hand mill and its problems to the bottom of the sea, where it is still grinding salt.

The third play "No One Lives Here Anymore, We Thought," an original play by Michelle Penn, portrays the problems of a housefull of ghosts, goblins and devils who are suddenly invaded by humans.

The three plays were presented by the fifth grade class of Miss Pamela White. The class practiced for many weeks. They devised their own scenery and costumes as well as adding many unique and original touches of their own.

The road bed of old Va. Route 24, which until 1954 carried all "through" traffic into the village area, has been left in place for use by park visitors' vehicles. Eventually, this too will be discontinued when the courthouse was reconstructed in the circle and the present-day parking lot was built at about the same time in 1964.

The granite memorial marker placed by the local UDC chapter is also in the center of the picture. This was moved to the chapter's Confederate Cemetery property in 1964.

A typographical error in last week's article about the North Carolina Monument had Major Armes selling his property to Mr. London for $1,000. The actual selling price was $1.00.

Junior Woman's Club To Sponsor Benefit Games

Three Little League Basketball All-Star games will be sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Appomattox Saturday, March 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the gym at the Appomattox Middle School. Tickets will be sold at the door at .75 for adults, .50 for students, and children under 5 years old will be admitted free.

All proceeds will be donated to the Pediatric Endocrine Lab in Charlottesville in the name of Eddie Lewis. The lab is doing research on the human growth hormone which comes from one source - the human pituitary gland removed during autopsy. (Eddie suffers from this deficiency and receives injections of this hormone.) Unfortunately there are not enough glands available to supply all the children who might benefit. Now you can help, either by donating your gland or contributing financially. Donor cards are available at Dr. Fratrick and Mathews office; and anyone wishing to contribute finacially please call Mrs. S. R. Martin or Mrs. John Canada.

The following are questions and answers about pituitary and other organ donations:

Q. What is the pituitary?

A. A pea-sized gland located at the base of the brain, sometimes referred to as the "master gland" of the body. If "lazy" or destroyed, it ceases to function normally and does not produce the hormones required of it.

Q. Why should I donate my pituitary gland?

A. This gland is the only known source of human growth hormone (HGH), a hormone used to investigate growth problems - particularly hypopituitarism. As a result of this investigation, children who would never reach 5 feet in height are given the chance to grow normally.

Q. What is done with my gland?

A. It is given to the National Pituitary Agency who removes the hormone. The human growth hormone is then distributed to doctors who use it for investigative therapy.

Q. Who can be a donor?

A. Any individual of sound mind and 18 years of age or more may donate his pituitary gland or other parts of his body. A parent or legal guardian can consent for the removal of the pituitary of a minor, at the time of death.

Q. What tissues will be taken?

A. First, you must specify the tissues to be taken at death. Then only the tissues you so specify will be taken. The pituitary, eyes, kidneys, heart, temporal bones, or even your entire body may be donated.

Q. Is it necessary to put my organ donation in my will?

A. No, a Donor Card is a legal document. If you make a will, however, declare you intent in it for added emphasis.

Q. Will my relatives or estate receive money for my organs?

A. No.

Q. May I change my mind later?

A. Of course, all you need to do is tear up the card.

Q. Suppose I have cancer or a communicable disease?

A. Unless the pituitary gland itself is affected, the pituitary is usable.

Q. Is it necessary for me to register somewhere so that my wishes are known?

A. It is suggested for statistical purposes you notify the Human Growth Foundation, national central registry for donating the pituitary gland, that you have signed your Donor Card and are carrying it in your wallet.

Q. Will my card be honored in all 50 states?

A. The Uniform Anatomical Gift Act is valid in at least 40 States, and the Card itself in another 5 states. Additional States will probably pass the Act soon.

Q. How would my gift affect the wishes of my next-of-kin?

A. Under the Uniform Gift Act, your wishes will take preference over those of the next-of-kin. However, it is suggested that you discuss the idea of donating your pituitary gland with your spouse and next-of-kin so that they are fully aware of your desire.

Q. How long does it take for Nationwide to pay off?
A. Within 48 hours after proof of loss in most cases.
There are a number of reasons why nine out of ten Nationwide auto policy holders renew with Nationwide year after year. One very good reason is that most claims are paid within 48 hours after proof of loss.
That's a pretty good record. We're trying to beat it. Why not call about our auto insurance today.
